

HOUSTON

Houston is a multi-disciplinary PR and communications consultancy. Founded in 2007, we work with leadership teams of businesses to communicate to all audiences - the media, the City, shareholders, industry peers, influencers and consumers - and deliver outstanding results.

Our clients include CEOs, CFOs, directors of corporate affairs, directors of marketing and founders of both listed and privately-held businesses. All share a restless entrepreneurial spirit and a strong desire for their message to be received, understood and shared. All take their reputation seriously. They want to be heard, not part of the herd.

Communications today are a conversation with a purpose - blending clarity, detail, insight, engagement and the right tone of voice in every interaction. We make this happen to steer positive perceptions of our clients through insightful, memorable and engaging communication that inspires audiences to act.
